

Your personal data and the General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR)

FHOCF is an entirely voluntary organisation whose activities in the park are reliant on the goodwill and co-operation of Bedford Borough Council (BBC). We undertake to collect and use your personal data in compliance with the GDPR. We are the 'Data Controller' responsible for deciding how we can use the data; it is your responsibility to give us accurate and up-to-date information.

We hold your data on paper and in digital form. We use it of necessity to administer FHOCF in association with BBC and to send you further communications if you have requested them. We share your data only with FHOCF committee members and nominated members of BBC park staff. We will keep your data for as long as you have a relationship with us. After that, your record is deleted from our membership list but will remain on our backups for 12 - 18 months.

You have the right to be told about the collection and use of your data (see full Privacy Notice) and to view it; to have your data updated where inaccurate or incomplete, withdrawn from processing or erased; to ask for your data in digital form, object to its use and query or challenge any automated decision making. However, some rights only apply in certain circumstances.

Full information about our use of your personal data and your rights can be found in our Privacy Notice, available from the park office (01234 720016) and www.hocp.co.uk
